

[e1] The primary job of a parent is to prepare the child to live independently on their own.

[e2] A helicopter parent does not allow the child to develop life skills needed to do that.

[e3] A child eventually grows up and parents eventually die.

[e4] When a child grows up to adulthood from helicopter parents they face challenges that can make surviving the harsh realities of adulthood impossible.

[e5] Helicopter parents are bad for their children.

