

[e1] Using a cell phone while driving is extremely dangerous.

[e2] Any time a driver is focused on a handheld device, they are not paying attention to the road.

[e3] This can lead to accidents, which can cause serious injury and even death.

[e4] Some people might argue that they could miss an important call while driving,

[e5] but it is far better to pull to the side of the road and take the call rather than to keep driving.

[e6] Prohibiting car drivers from using their cell phones while driving would go a long way to making our roads safer.
