

[e1] I think that supermarkets should charge a small amount for plastic bags.

[e2] This charge could help people remember and consider the idea of using 'free' reusable bags.

[e3] But also, the fee for the plastic bags could go towards the cost of recycling the bags.

[e4] They could add a program for collecting clean used bags.

[e5] But if the fee was small, it wouldn't be too bad for those who forgot their reusable bags, or have their reasons for using plastic each time.
